Garbage Rate Formula Delays Coast Dump Pact

City councilmen and representatives of Daly City Scavenger Co. paved the way for final approval of a contract governing a Coastside fill and cover dump operation at study session Wednesday night.

An impasse was reached over a rate formula guaranteeing scavengers "a reasonable return of profit," but attorneys for the city and scavengers were directed to iron this out before the August 7 study session. It is expected that the contract will be signed on August 12, after which the scavengers will immediately start use of the dump just off Mussell Rock.

The contract calls for a portion of the land, west of Coast highway, to revert to City of Daly City after the fill operation in this area is complete. The property will be used for recreation purposes.

The 11-page contract, which grants scavengers exclusive right to collect garbage after August 30, 1959, governs the methods under which the fill and cover operation must be handled.

No Rate Change

Present garbage rates will be maintained until at least the 1959 date, after which the scavengers can either negotiate or apply a formula for increased rates, depending upon which method is agreed upon in the next few weeks.

The contract prevents scavengers from burning garbage and refuse, in compliance with the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District ban, which goes into effect October 1, 1957.

The scavengers are currently dumping in South San Francisco at a cost of $1000 a month and President Al Sereni said he was most anxious to move to the Coastside site.

Debate on method of assuring scavengers a reasonable profit consumed most of the time Wednesday. Councilman Paul Hupf contended that a set formula, rather than arbitration, would remove rate setting from "political consideration."

City Attorney Frank Blum and Conrad Reisch, counsel for the scavengers, will attempt

Niftiest birth announcement we've seen:

ALFRED M. and MAOLOVIA P. MARQUEZ, 677 Orange street, announced the debut of their daughter, JUDALINE, in the form of blueprint specifications, complete with drawings, titled "Marquez Family Addition, A-1"

Maolovia was listed as architect, Alfred as engineer, and Dr. Edmund F. Anderson as consultant. Other vitals: "designed by M.P.M., assisted by A.M.M., Delivered by Anderson, Time: 7:20 p.m., Date: July 6, 1957."

Judaline's drawings showed "elevation" and "plan," in keeping with draftsmen's lingo.

Specifications also, of course, included: "weight, 7 lbs., 14 oz., hair black and curly; eyes, dark; and miscellaneous, dimpled cheeks."

Probably one of the few times a draftsman ever started with the finished product and drew the plans and specifactions around it.

Supervisor TOM CALLAN of Colma is noticeably absent in the news lately, for an understandable reason.

State Grants $408,000 For Jeff School Addition

An allocation of $408,000 for a two-classroom addition and extended playfield at Jefferson school near Colma was approved Wednesday by the state.

Superintendent H. Z. Weibel, his assistant, David Shapiro, and Trustee Doris Wimberly represented the district before the state allocations body in Sacramento.

The district's expansions plans call for taking in 4.8 acres of vacant land and six or eight home sites adjacent to the present 1.3 acre Jefferson school on Allemany.

The land acquisition program is expected to take about a year and the new additions are scheduled for completion in late 1959.

Majority of the extra land will go for playfield space. Weibel said the present 1.3 acre school, only a small portion of which is play area, is vastly overcrowded, housing 360 students.

The site, when completed, will still not be up to state recommended acreage requirements, "but it was the best we could do," Weibel declared.

On completion of the additions, the district will abandon the Jefferson annex building, which is considered by educators and parents as unsuited for class room use.

Steps will be taken immediately to acquire the extra land for the Jefferson school expansion.

Bedroom Row—Boy Stabs Dad

Treated at Junipero Serra hospital for superficial back wounds was John A. Lindahl, 42, who lives at Mission Bell Motel, 6843 Mission street.

He is reported off the critical list.

Lindahl, a bowling alley mechanic, summoned Officers Richard DeLosa and James Sunderland, claiming he'd had a scuffle with his son.

The father was mum at first, refusing to give any explanation of the incident. His wife's antagonism, however, caused Lindahl to provide the lowdown, police said.

The machanic took off his blood-stained shirt, revealing several wounds on his back. Blood was all over the bedroom and bathroom floor, the report indicated.

Lindahl said he told the youth he was willing to forget the incident, but the boy ran to the kitchen, grabbed two butcher knives and began the attack. The father did not fight back, he said.

The youth was taken to Hillcrest juvenile home after booking for assault with a deadly weapon.

The father revealed that his son had been in trouble since losing four fingers on his left hand a year ago in an accident. He said this was the apparent reason for the boy's unconventional actions.

Thirteenth Fire In 15 Days Alerts Colma Department

Colma firemen, who think four or five calls is a heavy month, have had a workout in July, answering their thirteenth call in 15 days Monday evening.

Dense smoke and 15-foot flames attracted hundreds to a vacant lot west of Hillside boulevard and south of A street, but property damage was negligible.

Firemen said the blaze in the lot owned by William Lagomarsino may have been started by sparks from a nearby auto wrecker shop. Rubbish and an abandoned barn nourished the flames for about 30 minutes.

It was the third time this month that the department has been summoned to a fire at that location.

A Colma fire department spokesman could not account for the rage of calls during July, speculating only that the dry weather and teen-age pranksters might be partially responsible.

School Chief Replies To SF Criticism

A combination apology and explanation of need to acquire 2½ acres of San Francisco land for a school site was forwarded San Francisco school superintendent Harold Spears this week by H. Z. Weibel, local schools chief.

In a letter released to Mayor George Christopher last week, Spears charged that the proposed condemnation of property on Brunswick and Lowell in San Francisco for a Daly City school "violates the policies of our own school district and places our board of education in an embarrassing position."

Spears also took issue with the fact that the Jefferson Elementary School district never approached the San Francisco board on the matter.

Weibel opened his reply to Spears by apologizing "for not having approached the San Francisco board of education before negotiations got underway."

Not Necessary

Countering Spears allegation that 10 acres was not necessary for a 12-classroom school, Weibel said, "No other buildable land is available in the area without mass acquisition of home sites at exoribant cost." He also explained that the district had to depend on state assistance for financing, adding that, "The site was chosen after intensive study by the board of trustees, state bureau of school planning, local allocation division of the state department of finance, and the state allocation board." The site is needed for replacement of the old Gen. Pershing school on Hanover,

Court Revenue For Daly City Hits $62,000

Daly City's share of municipal court fines and forfeitures for fiscal year 1956-57 took a jump of more than $22,000 over the 1955-56 total here, Dick Liberty, court clerk, revealed today.

For fiscal 1956-57, Daly City, getting 76 percent (county 24 percent), gained $62,346.16. Court fines and forfeitures brought Daly City $40,869 for fiscal 1955-56.

The city's 56-57 share included fines from 4736 moving citations, 2275 non-moving citations and 5648 paid parking meter citations. Moving citations alone brought in $21,000 for Daly City.

Township of Colma got $4776 from 1956-57 court proceeds. Moving citations numbered 720. Colma gets 60 percent of the total.

Daly City's 76 percent share is the lowest for major cities. San Bruno gets .87 percent, South San Francisco 88.

Judge Thomas L. Bocci Jr. handled 70,424 court actions during fiscal 1956-57. Some 69,000 of these were in the traffic-criminal category.

Total civil and small claims filed were 1360.

Assessor, Chief Aide Air Conflicting Views

'Experts' Say Assessments Are 'Sound'

A professional research group, hired by Daly City, said in a report last week that "the method chosen by the assessor to adjust property value in Westlake is sound."

The firm, Louis J. Kroeger and Associates, also declared that "the county was consistent and uniform in applying its assessment method within the Westlake area."

The report was called for after hundreds of Daly City residents protested the recent re-appraisals of property here, which will result in higher taxes. Elsewhere throughout the county, the re-appraisal program may take as long as five years, meaning residents of this area will bear the brunt of the higher taxes for a longer period.

Two-Phase Study

The two-phase report included: Recent re-valuation of land in the Westlake subdivisions, to determine if the adjustments were equitable; a reported plan of the county assessor for a general long-term reappraisal of all property in the county, to determine any possible inequitable effects on Daly City.

The reappraisal, ranging in increase from $190 to $340 per lot, will mean tax rate increases ranging from $11.84 to $21.20 in Westlake. Commenting on this, the survey group said, "It is always assumed that an assessor has exercised his best judgment in determining value, and that his assessments have been both regularly and correctly made."

The Kroeger report said, "To the best of our understanding the regular practices of the

Researchers Charge $1000 For Survey

Kroeger & Associates, authors of the report on assessment practices affecting Daly City, have put in a bill for $1000 for their professional services, but there is little likelihood the city council will approve the payment.

The controversial report was not even presented in evidence at Wednesday's county board of equalization hearing because it substantiated, rather then refuted, the county assessor's methods.

Said Mayor Joseph Verducci Wednesday on learning of the charge, "I suggest this be re-negotiated. It's too much money."

City Attorney Frank Blum pointed out that, "We attacked the very practices they approved in there."

Councilman Paul Hupf said emphatically, "I'll never approve a bill for $1000."

After much fury and contradictions, county supervisors Wednesday snuffed out Daly City's "unfair" land reassessment protest in a stormy session at Redwood City.

Despite an awkward difference of opinion between the county assessor and his chief appraiser, the board ruled that "no substantial inequities in assessed valuation exist in the county."

Rejection of the protest, representing almost 2000 local homeowners, means that about 800 Westlake residents will be faced with average hikes of 50 per cent land valuation and subsequent tax increases ($11 to $21) on the 1957-58 rolls. City council, angered at the "cold shoulder" decision, Wednesday night pledged an all-out fight next year on the "tax inequities" which they still maintain are prevalent.

Three Points

City attorney Frank Blum, backed by local real estate experts, argued before supervisors Wednesday. Blum pinpointed the protest on three premises: 1. Tax equalization has not been attained. 2. The county has no actual "methods" of true appraisal 3. The county assessor started the reassessment drive in the north end and is working south.

Latter point caused the most fuss as O. B. Hempstead, county assessor, took exception to direct testimony of Lester Osborne, the county's land appraiser.

Osborne confirmed Blum's claim that the county started its reassessment plan at the north end and intends to complete reappraisals of the entire Jefferson Union high school district next year. Both Lyle Edson, deputy district attorney, and Hempstead, took exception to Osborne's statement.

Hempstead declared that Osborne was mistaken, and that the county is not working on a north to south "sweep" policy.

Osborne, under oath, added that his office's policy was to first reappraise those areas that are "farthest out of line," based on a ratio of assessed valuation to market value.

Leaves Doubts

Osborne, however, would not change his opinion, adding more doubt on the county's "system" as far as the petitioners are concerned.

Jack Estes, county building appraiser, attempted to justify the county policy by citing that the assessor relies chiefly on internal revenue tax stamps affixed to deeds in order to determine value.

Blum answered that stamps didn't reflect a true picture. "That method has been thrown out of every court of law," he snapped back. "Furthermore," Blum said, "I don't think there ever has been an independent appraisal of values in Westlake.

Hempstead presented maps revealing that some areas of the county have not been reappraised for 10 years. He also explained that land in the older section of Belmont and on the east side of the county around Redwood City have been hit by reappraisals.

This explanation did not convince Blum and city committee spokesmen, wh

25,000 Autos Stopped In 'Census'

Some 25,000 north-bound vehicles were stopped on three Daly City thoroughfares in a two-day traffic origin and destination survey conducted here this week by Wilbur Smith & Associates, on contract with City of San Francisco.

The traffic consultants are conducting the survey to determine if a need exists for a western freeway access to San Francisco and, if so, where the facility should be erected.

Results of the study will be released in from three to four months, according to the survey team.

An estimated 12,000 motorists travelling north-bound on Junipero Serra were interviewed Tuesday. Those interviewed represented about 25 per cent of the total number of vehicles travelling Junipero Serra both ways in a single day.

Another 13,000 motorists travelling north on Mission street and Hillside boulevard Wednesday were questioned as to their origin and destination.

CAR VICTIM, 12, IS MUCH BETTER; MAY COME HOME

Jackie Yaeger, 12-year-old Colma school girl, Wednesday left her hospital bed for the first time since she was severely injured by an auto on Mission more than a month ago.

The victim's mother said Jackie was able to get into a wheel chair for a few minutes' stay.

First x-rays show that in addition to a skull fracture, the girl sustained a broken pelvis. Additional tests have been held back due to Jackie's condition.

The girl recognizes her parents but has difficulty with her vision and speech. She may be allowed to return home in another month.

Unaware of how she was injured, she did remark, however, "I wouldn't want this to happen to anyone."

Congregation of Calvary Baptist church on Mission street this week gave the family a $250 check to help hospital expenses. Persons who would like to help out should call Mrs. Yaeger, PL 5-3081.

Frank Archini, the painter of 267 Wyandotte avenue who ran Jackie down, failed to appear in traffic court earlier this month to face charges of violating the pedestrain right of way, according to Mrs. Yaeger. Archini had no insurance at the time of the mishap. A bench warrant has been issued for Archini, police said.

Council Will Probe Sources Of Revenue

Means of financing the 1957-58 city budget will be discussed by the city council Monday night.

Several new forms of revenue have been proposed to offset the lack of funds available through property taxes.

The unexpected $3 ½ million increase in assessed valuation will bring in some funds not anticipated by the council, but not enough to finance the $1,319,345 budget.

At Monday's meeting, the council will convene as the board of equalization to adopt the 1957-58 assessment roll. Tax rate must be established at the August 12 meeting.

Also on schedule Monday is a public hearing on the city's proposed weed abatement program. All unsightly areas must be cleaned up or the city will undertake the chore and bill the property owners for the work.

Fix Those Sidewalks, City Rules

How are the sidewalks in front of your property?

If they're in disrepair, it will cost you money under a policy rentatively approved by the city council Wednesday.

Pointing out that condition of sidewalks in front of homes is a responsibility of the property owner, the council read draft of a letter which will be sent to residents of four or five blocks in the first step of a piece-meal program to improve the city's neglected walkways.

The property owners will be asked to bring condition of sidewalks up to specifications listed in a proposed ordinance. Failure to comply will be a misdemeanor, subject to $500 fine, six months in jail, or both.

Twenty days after receipt of the notice, the city will send a follow-up letter citing the residents if they fail to bring the walks up to standards.

The council did not designate where the sidewalk repair campaign would start, but Mayor Joseph Verducci said four or five blocks would be picked as "guinea pig areas."

2 Indecent Exposure Incidents Reported

Two cases of indecent exposure were reported to Daly City police Wednesday.

Shortly past noon, Mrs. Richard Guglielmino, housewife of 21 Crestwood drive, apartment 12, said she was approached by a man in the alley way behind the apartments. Described as about 6-2 and 35 years old, he fled in an old model car, she reported.

A 16-year-old Balboa high school student was taken to Hillcrest after exposing himself Wednesday night in front of 764 Templeton. Two women said the youth, clothed in only a shirt, called to them. He was picked up by officers immediately.

'Death' Toll Hits 120 In CD Test

Daly City's loss of lives was estimated at 120 and 100 buildings were destroyed Friday when a small atom bomb exploded in San Francisco as part of a nation-wide civil defense alert.

Eight persons, including City of Daly City department heads, took part in the "paper exercise," charting losses, estimating volume of traffic and providing communications with the control center in San Mateo.

Of Daly City's some 750 residents remaining after evacuation 12 days earlier, 120 were killed by the hypothetical blast. One hundered buildings were estimated to have been destroyed and the Coast highway was knocked out.

Traffic flow on the three main arteries through Daly City—El Camino, Junipero Serra and Skyline—was at a minimum, since most of the San Francisco population had also been evacuated 12 days earlier.

Fred Avilez, administrative assistant, said there were "many flaws" in the operation which would be ironed out after a complete study of the test. An official critique from the county control center will be released at a later date.

The exercise started at 12:25 p.m. when the bomb was exploded in San Francisco. Daly City's remained on the alert status until 8 p.m.

Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy coordinated the local program.

SECOND POLIO CLINIC OPENS HERE JULY 27

Free polio shots will be given at Daly City's War Memorial building, 144 Hillside boulevard, on Saturday, July 27, from 9 to 11:30 in the morning.

Last polio clinic presented by the county here attracted almost 1500 residents.

Recommended dosage schedule:

Not less than two weeks between the first and second polio shots. Not less than six months between the second and third injections.

Longer intervals do no harm, doctors claim, but an individual does not reach maximum protection until he has received the series of three injections.

Since the first of the year, a total of 223,242 shots of free vaccine have been given in the county.

A clinic—open to all county residents — will be held this Saturday morning, 9 to 11:30, at American Legion Hall, 2398 University avenue, Palo Alto.

'Experts' Say Assessments Are 'Sound'

San Mateo county assessor have been applied with fair uniformity to all subdivisions in the county.

'Not Singled Out'

"Contrary to a general impression prevailing in Daly City, Westlake was not singled out for this treatment. The assessor has attempted to cover the county, making adjustments in value in all part of the county each year within the capacity of a limited staff. The criterion for selecting areas for adjustment and year is to take first those in which there is the greatest disparity between assessed valuation and current market values."

The Kroeger study also asserted that the county assessor "denies any plan for a general reassessment" over a five-year period, which is reportedly starting in Daly City and continuing south.

Said the report, "He (the assessor) declares that it is his plan to continue adjustments on this basis within the limits of his saff. 'Need' is defined as the areas where the greatest disparity exists between assessed valuation and current market value." Westlake is in this category, according to statistics included in the Kroeger report.

SCHOOL CHIEF REPLIES TO SF CRITICISM

which houses 400 pupils on .76 acres.

The local superintendent said the Jefferson district had to adhere to certain criteria in its building program, "not having the financial resources of its big and wealthy neighbor."

Spears pointed out that "since 1948 we have built 26 new elementary schools in San Francisco, the acreage of the largest site being 5.3 acres."

Cites Examples

Examples of San Francisco elementary schools revealed a 19-classroom building on 3.3 acres, 17-classrooms on 2.3 acres, 18-classrooms on 3.3 acres, and 20-classrooms on 2.8 acres.

Spears argued that "public enterprise calls for business efficiency just as does private enterprise, and for all practical purposes no elementary school site in this immediate area need be over 5½ acres."

Spears also reminded Christopher that the San Francisco district is constructing the new 19-classroom Longfellow school at Lowell and Morse streets, only one block from the San Francisco land now demanded by Daly City district, on a 2.4 acre site.

"Complete Disregard"

"For Daly City to attempt to grab San Francisco land in the very next block to build a new 10-acre school represents complete disregard of our situation," Spears related, adding that "To display San Francisco families and school children in that immediate area by taking their property would conflict with our own San Francisco investment in the new Longfellow school to serve that area."

Spears said that irrespective of the legal issues involved, he still felt that "an inequity would be created if this proposal were allowed to go through unchallenged."

Weibel wrote that the history of the Jefferson district land acquisition "is a story of careful, deliberate and conservative actions, frequently hampered by a lack of appreciation for the needs of the youth of the community by some of the developers, a few of the citizens, and even by some public officials."

Weibel speculated that eventually those persons displaced by the school might accept the situation "with even a degree of cheerfulness because 'it is for the kids.'"

"I'm sure," Weibel concluded, "that after the first shock of being victimized by the tremendous increase in school enrollments has passed, many of the citizens in the new Pershing site area will likewise find some solace in making their sacrifices 'for the kids.'" claimed that the "samples" offered by Hempstead were extremely minor in comparison to the Daly City situation.

Promises Battle

"I think we made quite an impression on supervisors," disappointed Blum said. "If they proceed to put this entire district on the new tax rolls next year, they (supervisors) are really going to have a fight on their hands."

Testifying on behalf of Daly City during the two meetings were Vance Craft, Del Wilson, Paul Green, Ed Murphy and Pete Markovich. First session last week was continued because Hempstead said he needed more time to consider the "evidence."

Seven county golf courses also got the "axe" from supervisors Wednesday as the latter sat as a board of equalization. Protesting an average 300 per cent increase in assessments of their property, the golf officials were turned down, thus adding about $80,000 to the tax load of the seven organizations.

Lake Merced Golf and Country Club's valuation will increase from $170,000 to $335,575. A Lake Merced spokesman said membership dues may have to be hiked at least $5 a year to meet the new taxes.

Council Says SF Giants Far Better Than Hayward Brand

City of Hayward's ambitious plans for a 90,000 capacity stadium to lure the New York giants to their East Bay hamlet were frowned upon by the Daly City council Wednesday.

The council held over for further study a request by Hayward for a resolution endorsing their stadium plans.

Mayor Joseph Verducci appointed himself the council's one-man major league baseball committee, and promptly decreed a hands-off policy on anything involving big league ball.

Councilman Micheal De Bernardi suggested that the council go on record with San Mateo county supervisors as favoring location of a major league park in this county.

Verducci replied, "I didn't think we should stick our necks out. If everybody pulls in a different direction, we'll jeopardize San Francisco's chances. We'd rather have major league ball in the West Bay than Hayward."

Marine Reservists: You May Be Eligible For Naval Academy

Lt. Col. James A. Leckie, Commanding Officer of Marine Fighter Squadron 141 announced today that a new directive has been published by the U. S. Marine Corps that outlines how a young man between 17 and 22 years of age and who has been a member of the Organized Marine Corps Reserve for one year prior to July 1, 1958, may qualify for appointment to the U. S. Naval Academy under the Secretary of the Navy quota for the U. S. Marine Corps Reserve.

In making the announcement, he pointed out that many youth of the bay area are not aware of this opportunity. Ordinarily it is necessary for young men to compete for the limited number of appointments available through their congressman.

Lt. Col. Leckie stated that it is entirely feasible for a young man to attend high school or college in this area, be a member of Marine Fighter Squadron 141, and win one of the coveted appointments. He said further that those who desire to try for appointments under this quota receive the best possible assistance and guidance from their reserve organization.

Further information relative to this matter may be gained at the offices of Marine Air Reserve Training Detachment, U. S. Naval Air Station, Oakland, Tuesday through Friday of each week.

Tom Rice, 14-year-old student at Aptos Junior high, and a member of the San Francisco Archery Club, recently won the Boys' Archery Championship of California in the California Bowmen, Hunters, and Field Archers Association Meet, hosted by the San Luis Obispo County Bowmen.

In the meet, Tom scored 1204 points for the three rounds (field, hunters' and broadhead), 220 points ahead of his nearest competitor, Jack Boon of Los Angeles. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean A. Rice, 832 Grafton avenue.

Although shooting seriously only a little over one year, Tom modestly admits that he has won awards in the eight meets entered—the eighth, the state championship trophy. "7 minutes in the cab...saves my wife hours of housework"

S.P. Locomotive Engineer, Joe DiSalvo of San Jose, earns enough in 7 minutes to provide his family with 24 hours of gas and electricity

"Never realized gas and electricity were so cheap till I figured it out this way," says Mr. DiSalvo. "Just 7 minutes' pay takes care of 24 hours of heat and lights and gives Mrs. DiSalvo the use of 34 gas and electric appliances."

You can afford to let gas and electricity do more of your housework. For even though the cost of living has doubled in the last 20 years, P. G. & E. charges about ⅓ less for a unit of gas and electricity than it did in 1936. (See chart)

PARKING SCORE: NOT EVEN .500

The location is at San Jose avenue and Flournoy street, where the current parking status is unlimited.

This particular ramshackle vehicle has been abandoned at the intersection for more than a month, apparently not in violation of any city ordinance.

Meanwhile, other Daly City motorists must scurry about for parking places near the business district or take asylum at a parking meter slot.

This particular area was once a red zone and no parking was permitted. Suddenly, there's no limit on parking, but as a result, very few Daly City drivers can take advantage of the free parking, since the space is cluttered up with out of town vehicles that remain anywhere from a day to a month.

The School street dilemma is another example of the inadequacy of Daly City's parking program . . . or the lack of any program.

For at least six months the council has haggled, cajoled and conciliated with property owners in the area to arrive at a parking plan that will please everybody. On one end of the street, the residents want two-hour parking; somewhere else they want one hour; and others want no restrictions whatsoever.

Parking regulations by nature must be uniform to be workable.

If the laws are changed everytime a constituent bends an individual councilman's ear, they cannot be intelligent and workable.

Daly City once had a "parking authority"—a body devoted to the study of Daly City's traffic and parking problems—but this group of commissioners threw their hands up in futility when every recommendation they made was pigeon-holed or deemed too costly.

Parking and politics are, of course, inseparable. A favor can be given or returned by establishing a favorable parking zone for certain individuals or business people.

But to draft a parking ordinance that benefits the greatest number of people, inconveniences the least number, the council must act in unison, after a thorough study of the problem by the police experts.

There'll never be a parking ordinance to please everyone.

But the city isn't even batting .500 under present parking regulations.

'DALTON FUND' DRIVE LEADERS LAUD HELPERS

Dear Mr. Bradshaw:

As co-chairmen for the recently completed Dalton Fund project, we would like to thank all of the many individuals and groups who joined so wholeheartedly with us to make it a success. The needed door, porch and ramp have been built for the Dalton home, and the exterior painting will be completed soon. Once again the people in the community served by your paper have stepped forward to help one of their members, and they were joined by some from other communities as well. It is heartening to realize, and to come in contact with, the generosity made so evident.

We would like to thank THE RECORD, and particularly Roy Hurlbert, for the pictures and articles which helped so much in the success of this undertaking. Mr. Hurlbert's interest and cooperation were greatly responsible for our being able to enlist the aid of so many others in a very worthwhile endeavor.

We would also like to thank the following for their help and generosity: Gillon Lumber Company, Gerrans Paint Store. Daly City Auto Wreckers, Parker Weather Strip Company, T. J. Fitzpatrick, Ross and Marion Hilton, Al Bolander, and all the many people who contributed to the Dalton Fund.

Through the generosity of the American Legion Post 824 and the Auxiliary 824, Dan Dalton is now the proud possessor of an electrically powered small car which enables him to get out and about. We would like to thank both groups for this, and for the many other things they have been doing to make Dan feel truly a member of the community.

The Dalton Fund account is now closed. It has been a privilege to serve as chairmen and to meet and know and work with so many fine people. Dan joins us in this, and in again expressing our thanks.

Sincerely,
GWIN MITCHELL

JESD Land Value Up $3½ Million -- $52,000 More

An estimated $3 ½ million jump in assessed valuation for the Jefferson Elementary School district will bring an extra $52,000 into the school coffers.

Preliminary figures submitted by county superintendent of schools showed the district's total valuation for the 1957-58 fiscal year at $43,886,133. This is a whopping increase over last year's $40,416,640.

Since every million dollars means $15,000 more in tax revenue, based on the general purpose rate of $1.50, the district will have some $52,000 more to work with this year.

The assessment increase amounted to 10 per cent over last year and was double the five per cent boost which had been estimated by the school district.

Breakdown of the 1957-58 assessment roll showed the Jefferson district with $39,486,133 in secured property, $4,400,000 in unsecured. Last year's figures for the respective categories were $39,153,515 and $1,263,125.

Daly City B of A Branch Gets New Personnel Officer

A new officer in charge of operations and personnel at Bank of America's Daly City branch was announced today by Manager Louis Pisani.

He is R. A. (Rudy) Krevolt, promoted to assistant cashier and assigned to succeed Bernard O'Brien who has resigned.

Krevolt, a U. S. Army personnel officer during World War II, joined Bank of America in 1946 as a cash vault teller-trainee at the day and night office in San Francisco.

Returning to personnel work in 1952 with his promotion to employment interviewer in the personnel relations department at the head office, he advanced to assistant to the operations officer there in 1953 and to junior officer grade the following year.

Teachers' Dependents Aided By New Law Pushed By Francis

Legislation was signed yesterday by Governor Goodwin Knight which provides that the dependents of a school teacher shall be entitled to receive the salary due at the time of his death in an amount computed on the basis of the total annual salary divided by the number of days in the year.

This measure was introduced by Assemblyman Louis Francis at the request of the faculty of the College of San Mateo, with the approval of Dr. Julio Bortolazzo, president and district superintendent.

Francis explained that this legislation is necessary to eliminate the unfair practice which now exists in a few school districts under which the surviving spouse or children of a school teacher have been required to repay to the school district a part of the salary received by the teacher prior to his death in the early fall

Veterans News

Veterans' Administration, San Francisco office, today offered additional tips for ex-servicemen:

Questions and Answers

Q — I understand I can get my GI loan entitlement restored if I have to sell my house because of getting transferred to a job in another city. But what if I'm transferred to another job in the same city, on the other side of town? If I sold my house, could I get my loan rights restored?

A — Generally a change of jobs within the same metropolitan area would not be considered a reason for restoring your loan rights. However, restoration might be approved if you could show compelling proof that the change of job location involves substantial increase in the time or cost of transportation to and from work.

Q — I have a World War II GI term insurance policy. If I needed a loan, could I borrow on this policy?

A — No. World War II GI term insurance has no borrowing value. However, your World War II term policy may be converted to permanent insurance, which does begin to build up a loan value after it has been in force one year.

Q — A friend of mine recently lost his sight as a result of a World War II combat injury. What is his deadline for obtaining a VA grant to buy an automobile?

A — He has three years from the time his blindness occurred to file an application for a VA grant for an automobile.

Q — I am a disabled Korean veteran taking vocational rehabilitation training. Will my monthly subsistance allowance end as soon as I am declared rehabilitated?

A — No. It will go on for two months after you are declared rehabilitated.

Federal School Aid Bill 'Costly,' Association Says

Instead of "getting" federal aid, Californians would have to pay for some 441 school rooms in other states if H. R. 1, currently at issue in Washington, is not killed in the House of Representatives, S. J. Arnold, general manager of California Taxpayer's association, declared today.

H. R. 1 proposes to start a $300,000,000 a year program of federal aid for school construction, he explained.

The bill, as amended, would cost Californians about $29,430,000 the first year—to get back the $16,211,000 it would allot to California.

The difference—$13,200,000—is equal to the cost of 441 classrooms at $30,000 per classroom, Arnold said. Many of the states that would benefit have said they prefer to take care of their own school construction work.

"California has the biggest school housing problem and is doing the most to meet that problem of any state in the nation," Arnold declared.

"We are already meeting our school housing problems without the controls, red tape, and unnecessary costs which must inevitably go with sending money to Washington and then getting part of it back as federal aid," he stated.

"Unless the people of California and the other states get up in arms against this proposal for federal aid for school construction, the public schools of this country are likely to find themselves saddled with one more unnecessary program of federal aid—and all the rules and regulations that accompany federal money," he stated.

"Strong talk to the members of congress is called for now—if the threat of federal control of school construction under H. R. 1 is to be averted," Arnold declared.

Strictly For Veterans

A technicality of the Social Security Act — which has created concern among service officers who feared it would handicap them in representing claimants before that agency—has apparently been overcome.

Social Security Law prevents the agency from extending recognition to veterans organizations as the VA and Department of Defense do under the law. This would mean that a claimant could not designate an organization to act for him, but instead would have to name specifically an individual such as a Service Officer.

Difficulty in this setup occurs when cases are shifted from one office to another or when—for administrative reasons—more than one representative may be working on a claim. Social Security Law appeared to require undue red-tape with new individual accreditation in each instance.

Solution Found

Four veteran organizations, the Red Cross and the Bureau of Old Age and Survivors Insurance, have worked together and apparently arrived at a satisfactory solution administratively.

In cases where claimants merely wish to inquire about a claim, a simple letter to the bureau or to the veterans organization will be sufficient to establish the service officer's right to such information.

Where the claimant wishes to give full authority to a person or organization to act for him, he need merely complete form AC-512—Appointment of Representative. If the designated person indicates that he is a service officer of a veterans organization, the Social Security Administration will accept him as qualified to act in behalf of the claimant.

When other service officers may have to act in behalf of the claimant at a later date, it is suggested that alternate forms be prepared in advance and filed as it becomes necessary for the service officer to act.

Veterans groups and the Red Cross have indicated they will go along on a test of the above procedure. If satisfactory, the system will eliminate the need for asking for changes in basic social security law by Congress.

Legion Doings

Daly City Post and Unit 410, American Legion, held installation of officers Thursday evening. Commander Roy Henderson, 26th District, was the principal speaker. He stressed importance of veterans looking into various decisions being made by Congress on veteran affairs and acting to clarify these decisions by writing Congressmen. More definite information will be furnished all organizations in the near future.

The American War Mothers Chapter are planning another party for patients at Ft. Miley hospital. Mrs. Winifred Evans, chairman, will announce the date soon.

Due to vacations and installations, news items from the individual units will be rather short the next few weeks. If you have something special, please call JU 7-6143.

Assemblyman Praises Paper For Coverage

Dear Mr. Bradshaw:

I wish to express to you my sincere appreciation for the fair and excellent press coverage which the Daly City Record gave to my legislative measures during the 1957 general session of the State Legislature. Inasmuch as this was my first session, your cooperation was most helpful.

Now that the legislative guns have ceased firing and the smoke has cleared away, I can look back on the past session a little more objectively. Despite a few moments of personal frustration, it was a rich and satisfying experience, as well as a full education for me.

I am looking forward to continuing our association in the future. Meanwhile, I am pleased to have this opportunity to extend to you and yours my best wishes for an abundence of good health, happiness, and prosperity.

Kindest regards.

Cordially yours,
LOUIS FRANCIS
25th District

JUHS Sets Bond Sale In August

High school trustees at their August 5 meeting are expected to authorize the county to begin sale of $1,135,000 in district bonds.

Reason for the delay is that new assessed valuation for the district will not be determined until that time.

The new bonds were authorized by voters at the polls May 17.

The $1,135,000 bond sale will provide funds to complete Westmoor High and hasten proposed high schools in Sharp Park and Linda Mar.

Car Hurtles 80 Feet In Brisbane Mishap; Elderly Couple Hurt

An elderly San Francisco couple received serious injuries Sunday night when their car hurled over an 80-foot enbackment in Brisbane and landed upside down.

Taken to Peninsula hospital were George R. Miller, 63, of 1118 Shotwell street, possible broken neck, and his wife, Elizabeth, 65, fractured hip and possible internal injuries.

According to Highway Patrolman Karl Gordon, Miller missed a sharp curve on Humboldt street at Sierra Point road.

Broadmoor Reservist Undergoes Field Training At Roberts

Capt. Tom Burke, 627 Midway avenue, Broadmoor, headquarters commandant of Hq. & Hq. Co., 362nd Infantry Regiment, 91st Division, USAR, has just completed his first week of field training with Northern Califorina's famous Fir Tree Division at Camp Roberts.

The division moves into the second week with an even more strenuous schedule punctuated by three night problems dealing with escape and evasion tactics. The 91st, commanded by Brig. General Stuart D. Menist, winds up training this week and returns home Sunday.

Active in civic and community affairs, Capt. Burke is employed by Sears, Roebuck & Company in San Francisco.

'56 Report Shows 15,600 County Folks Got Social Security Pay

More than 15,600 retired workers in San Mateo County were getting monthly social security insurance payments totalling $921,000 at the end of 1956.

This compares with 13,400 old age beneficiaries receiving $771,000 monthly in the same county a year earlier, Mrs. Mercia Leton Kahn, manager of the Social Security Administration District office at 2747 Mission street, San Francisco, declared today.

The 12-month increase in aged beneficiaries is due partly to the lowering from 65 to 62 of the age at which a woman without an entitled child in her care may qualify for benefits, Mrs. Kahn said. The lowering of the retirement age for women was one of the provisions of the 1956 Amendments to the Social Security Act and became effective last November. It applies to retired women workers, wives of old-age beneficiaries, and widows or dependent mothers of deceased insured workers. Many women who would have had to wait up to three years longer before starting to get benefits under the old law became entitled to benefits in the last two months of 1956.

Noting that OASI coverage has taken hold rapidly in recent years, Mrs. Kahn pointed out that three-fourths of the men becoming 65 this year will be eligible for social security benefits. Of all people over 65 years of age, 62 percent are now drawing benefits or will be entitled to draw them when their income from work stops.

In December 1956, 2,272 children in San Mateo County were being paid a total of $105,118 monthly. These were largely minor children of a deceased insured parent; a smaller number were children under 18 whose insured father or mother had retired. All of these were unmarried children under 18. While child's benefits ordinarily stop at age 18, Mrs. Kahn called attention to a recent change in the law which makes payments possible for a child over 18, based on the insured account of a retired or deceased parent, if the child became totally disabled before reaching 18. Payments will be made also to the mother who has the disabled child in her care. This provision did not become effective until January 1957, consequently disabled child beneficiaries are not included in the total given above.

Commenting on the growth of the social security insurance in the 20 years of its operation, Mrs. Kahn recalled that the original law covered about 26 million workers; as of March 1957, approximately 55.5 million people were in work covered by the law, and more than 9 out of every 10 persons who work for a living and 9 out of 10 mothers and children have a stake in the social security insurance program.

Family's Vacation 'Extra' Expensive

A two-week vacation in New Mexico failed to enchant the James Nourse family, 86 Montrose avenue in Westlake.

Upon their return Monday, they discovered some $250 in cash, jewelry and personal belongings missing from their home.

Officers said the burglars undoubtedly were juveniles, since many valuables were overlooked by the intruders.

The culprits broke a hole in a rear window to gain entrance after climbing over a back fence. They first ransacked a basement bedroom, then went upstairs to complete the job. Pillows slips, taken in the haul, probably were used to cart away the loot, police speculated.

Nourse, a heating and plumbing man, listed his losses:

An Argus camera, $10 in quarters, white dress shirt, six polo shirts, two sweaters, eight pairs of argyles, assorted men's jewelry, a bathroom rug, bed spread and four pillow slips.

GOVERNOR PAVES PAY HIKES FOR CLERKS OF COURT

Legislation was signed by Gov. Goodwin Knight last week increasing salaries of municipal court clerks in San Mateo county and equalizing their compensation with that paid other county employees with similar duties and responsibilities.

This legislative action will permit continuous alignment of salaries on an annual basis for municipal court clerks with those paid for comparable positions under the county merit system.

The measure was introduced by Assemblyman Louis Francis at the request of the county board of supervisors. It increases the annual salary of the chief clerk of the Central Judicial District, which serves San Mateo, Burlingame, Hillsborough, and Millbrae, from $5892 to $7620.

The present law provides for two deputy clerks at a minimum salary of $266 per month and three deputy clerks at a minimum salary of $238 per month. The new bill provides for one chief deputy clerk at a minimum salary of $392 per month, one deputy clerk, Grade 3, at a minimum salary of $332 per month, three deputy clerks, Grade 2, at a minimum salary of $297 per month, and three deputy clerks, Grade 1, at a minimum salary of $266 per month.

Two other bills were signed to provide similar increases for the municipal court clerks for the Northern Judicial District, which serves San Bruno, South San Francisco, Daly City, and the north coastside area, and for the municipal court clerks for the Southern Judicial District, which serves the southern county cities.

Welfare Law Will Benefit County Groups

Governor Goodwin Knight signed into law yesterday a welfare exemption bill by Assemblyman Louis Francis designed to prevent charitable organizations from losing their tax exemption status for failure to file the required affidavits for tax exemption on April 1. The bill contained an urgency clause and immediately became effective.

This legislation was requested by the Crippled Children and Adults Society of San Mateo County. It will also benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America, the American Heart Association, United Cerebral Palsy Association, American Cancer Society, Infantile Paralysis Foundation, and the Tuberculosis Association, as well as other similar organizations.

Francis said, "A number of charitable and welfare organizations engaged generally in the work of assisting mentally and physically handicapped persons have inadvertently failed to file the required affidavit in support of the welfare exemption applicable to their property for the fiscal year 1957-58. Consequently, those organizations were confronted with the possible tax obligations which could substantially impair their ability to function effectively.

"This bill will remedy the situation by removing the procedural bar to the obtainment of the exemption. It is felt it will fulfill the public policy of the State expressed through such exemption allowances and thereby benefit the people generally," he added.

Cyclist Killed In Head-On Coast Crash

Frank Anson Kelley, 851 San Jose avenue, was killed when his motorcycle crossed over a double line as he sped around a curve on Manor drive, smashing into a car driven by Amos Daniel Smith, 42, of 1951 Linda Mar boulevard, Pedro Valley.

Rabbi Stillpass Ends Duty At Temple Judea

Rabbi Leo J. Stillpass, spiritual leader of Temple Judea in Daly City the past year, has resigned to accept the call to the pulpit of Congregation Beth Zion in Johnstown, Pennsylvania. He succeeds Rabbi H. Goren Perelmuter.

Rabbi Stillpass, his wife and two children, Marty Joel and Jan Cheryl, will leave here August 15 for their residence.

During the year the rabbi has been active in community affairs, having been on the steering committee for the founding of the Big Brothers Association of San Francisco, charter board members of the same; board member and member of the Public Information Committee of the San Mateo County Chapter of the American Red Cross; member of the radio committee of the Board of Rabbis of Northern California representative of the board on the San Francisco Youth Association; member of the inter-city committee of the Northern San Mateo County Council of Community Agencies; member of the board of the San Francisco area Myasthenia Gravis Foundation; charter board member of the Daly City Police Athletic League. He has been called upon for radio and television programs, talks at civic and religious institutions, and has taken an active interest in the work of the Jewish Education Society of San Francisco, and its Teacher Training Institute, the Western Association of Reform Rabbis committee on standards.

He just returned from the annual meeting of the Central Conference of American Rabbis in Miami Beach where he conducted the religious service for the openin gsession of the Conference. He serves on the art and literature committee of that conference, the National Advisory Council of the American Jewish Committee; holds a commission as a lieutenant in the Navy chaplaincy (retired reserve), and is a member of many national military and religious organizations.

Services will continue to be held each Friday evening at 8:30 in the Temple House, 95 South Mayfair, with Rabbi Slillpass and Cantor Harold Wachter officiating. Friday, July 19, Rabbi Stillpass will speak on: "Moses and Schweitzer—Their Call to Conscience." Mrs. Clifford Clicksman will conduct the candlelighting service.

Max Rudorfer, Memorial Committee Chairman, announces that a temporary memorial plaque has been placed in the Temple which will contain the names of those to be perpetually memorialized. This will serve until the new Temple is erected and the names can be tranferred to the permanent bronze plaque. Anyone wishing information concering the placing of names on this plaque or in the Yom Kippur memorial booklet before the High Holydays should contact Rudorfer.

Pre-registration is now being held for the new pre-kindergarten class and for new pupils who intend to enroll in the Judea religious school in September. Sunday classes will continue to be held at Westlake Elementary and week-day Hebrew Classes at the Temple House. OLPH PARISHIONERS TELL FESTIVAL DATES

The festival committee of Our Lady of Perpetual Help church has selected September 20 thru 22 as dates for the annual Fall Festival to be held in the school auditorium on Wellington Avenue.

George Calegari is general chairman.

It has been ten years since the hilltop parish school was opened to 450 students. The Fall Festival will celebrate that event with particular emphasis on the ten-year reunion theme. Calegari hopes to get a few of the original graduates together to renew old friendships and to make a few new ones.

Many parishioners have offered their support and the following chairmen have already been announced: Calegari, general chairman, assisted by Tony Parmisano and Tony Ricci; Father Joseph Garrity, executive chairman; Father John Bergin, honorary chairman; Fred Klingler, treasurer; Audrey Sallade, investment, assisted by Gloria Holmberg, Ralph Hall and Ernie Reyes; Janet Fellman, cake booth; Esther Nolan, apron booth; Alice Gonzales, doll booth; Junior Catholic Daughters, salami booth; Louise and Peter Lofrano, plant booth; Isabelle Liberti, publicity.

The following parishioners have volunteered to aid in planning the event: Dick Liberty, Dan Ciernik, Bill Brouwers, Jack Colthurst, Joseph Powers, Elias Wille, Catherine Irvinge, Virginia Stanley, Mrs. Milton Weckerle, William Whalen and Charles Gugino.

Proceeds of the festival will benefit the school and parish.

A series of bingo games, to help defray expenses of the festival, will be held each Saturday night in the school auditorium. First of these social nights will take place this Saturday, under chairmanship of William Whalen. Public is invited.

SFS Books Comedy

Room service, one of the most popular farce-comedies of the past decade, has been chosen as the next production of San Francisco State college. This hit laugh show, which regaled New York audiences for over a year, will open July 25, and play for three performances through July 27.

SAFE MARGIN

Your "margin for safety" when driving is the distance you can see clearly ahead of your car, says the California State Automobile Association. To maintain that safe margin, don't follow another motor vehicle too closely, never pass on hills or curves, and don't drive faster at night than your safety margin will permit.

Two For Tonight

By Leonore Brewer

STRICTLY MOVIES . . . Anybody see "A Face in the Crowd?" We finally cought up to it the other evening, paired with "The Strange One," and we were reminded again of how much more powerful many a film would be had someone just known when to call a halt.

You'll recall how this televions personality's power over the easily influenced mass mind is shattered by the key's being left open, permitting the lowest common denominator audience to hear how common their idol thinks they are. And maybe you remember the scene following, in which his agent, quick to sense a diving Trendex, phones the ad agency to let them know he's got a great new personality for them.

It's obvious that the only difference between the new personality and the old is that the latter has ridden the suckers to the end of his line, it's now the new folksy one's turn. The suckers will remain the same and in a few months it's going to be difficult to tell where one rider was unhorsed and another climbed on.

Too Familiar

It would have been more effective to wind up this depressing excursion into mass cultural levels at this point, rather than conclude with the overly familiar scene of the empty banquet room and Lonesome Rhode's mad bawlings in the night.

One little thing happened that gave us a cold chill: There appeared on the screen a scene in which Rhodes is in front of the television camera. A neon sign flashed "Applause," and the audience in the theater applauded. It makes you wonder, doesn't it?

We read that Sam Goldwyn is in town, not to make a picture but to appear in connection with an anti-trust suit. We've always felt partial to Sam because we once borrowed one of his famous "Goldwynisms" with which to clobber a critic of this column. Several months ago we ran across the following story which illustrates a keen sence of humor with reference to his own creations, a quality seldom come by.

Honest Crittic

A testimonial dinner was tendered to the Times' (New York, not Westlake)critic Ed Schallert, and Goldwyn was heard to say, "I don't mind a critic if he doesn't like my picture, when he's honest. And God knows — many of them have been honest."

During the dinner someone produced Schallert's first-lined piece, written April 9, 1916, in which he said of an unidentified film, "Five reels is too much for us. This picture will never be popular."

Should serve as a warning to anyone so rash as to express opinions of movies on paper, shouldn't it?

Something For Everyone

By The Staff Of The Daly City Public Library

Americans, more than ever before, are pushing out into the great outdoors in the search for recreation and sight-seeing.

This year, according to authorities, a record number of persons are expected to get out into the open to go camping, boating, hunting and fishing, as well as to see the sights.

Numerous books that will be of interest to the camping and outdoor enthusiast are available at the Daly City Public Library and its Westlake-Broadmoor Branch.

Good, available manuals include "Hiking, Camping and Mountaineering," by Roland Geist and "Handbook of American Mountaineering," by Kenneth A. Henderson. The "Handbook of Wilderness Travel," by George and Iris Wells, is a complete guide to the wilderness lands of the U. S. with advice on how to carry on wilderness trips.

Tips on woodmanship and various aspects of outdoor living are also given in Bernard Mason's "Woodmanship" and in his "Junior Book of Camping and Woodcraft." Other books of special interest to the younger members of the family are the "Boys' Complete Book of Camping," by Stanley Pashko, Zane Grey's "Book of Camps and Trails" and the "First Camping Trip," by Carroll B. Colby. A new book, "Its Fun to be a Counselor," by Emily H. Welch, should open new vistas for active young people.

Hazards of the outdoors, from sliding rocks and sunstroke to poisonous plants and animals, are described in "Outdoor Hazards: Real and Fancied," by Mary Hood.

Other fine books of general interest are "Hammond's Guide to Nature Hobbies," prepared by Emil Leopold Jordan and "Singing Wilderness," by Sigurd Olson. Martha Ruth Reben also adds to the lore of outdoor life in her book, "The Way of the Wilderness."

Library material is also plentiful on boats and boating, fishing, hunting, nature and other related subjects. In fact, your public library has something for everyone, so stop there soon and see what there is for you! The addresses are: Daly City Public Library, 6351 Mission street and Westlake-Broadmoor Branch Library, 34 Park Plaza drive in the Westlake shopping center.

SIREN

When you're driving and a siren sounds, it's not enough to slow down or merely stop. You must clear any intersection you may be in, pull over as far to the right as possible, and then stop. That's the law, says the California State Automobile Association, and it's also good sense.

Blum Conducts Special Series At St. Martin's

Using Jessie M. Hurlbut's "Story of the Bible for Young and Old" as a source book, a special series of three weekly discussions, led by Frank Blum, city attorney of Daly City, began Sunday at the 9:30 a.m. family service of St. Martin's Episcopal church in Westlake auditorium, 333 Park Plaza drive.

Urging families to pray together and describing prayer as "simply talking with God," Blum also recommended the Hurlbut adaptation of the Bible for family reading, since it is readily understood by all age groups. All church school classes from fourth grade to adults are currently receiving instruction together in this discussion group, and a separate class is provided for younger children, according to the Rev. Allen J. Downey, vicar.

Resumption of regular classes is planned for mid-September, at which time two teachers will be assigned to each class by Mrs. John E. Ellis, a member of the bishop's committee who also serves as Sunday school superintendent.

HIGHWAY PATROL HANDS OUT MORE VACATION TIPS

Vacation driving can be safe through the observance of a few simple rules says the California Highway Patrol.

"Vacation trips by motor vehicle can be either enjoyable or irritating in accordance with the driving habits," declared Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell. "Lack of planning, last minute departures, long tedious stretches of driving without rest and trying to squeeze in a few extra miles of driving each day are all conducive of irritation and accident potential.

"The better and more enjoyable way is to plan your trip allowing sufficient time each day to stop and relax occasionally," Caldwell stated. "Eat a substantial breakfast, but avoid heavy meals during the day to help eliminate the possibility of becoming logy or sleepy.

"If you leave the state, it is well to review the traffic rules and regulations of other states you plan to pass through," he continued. "And keep in mind always that traffic laws are safety rules worthy of your full consideration no matter where you drive."

Community Center

An 18-hit barrage, coupled with seven Lincoln park errors, led Community Center to a 21-1 softball victory Friday at Colma school. Behind the two-hit pitching of George Ambrosio, the Center's club came from a bad first inning to make it a wide open game from the third inning on. Mike Wills was the hitting star with a double, two triples and home run in five trips.

Mike Shea was the defensive standout for Lincoln at third base. The 9-year-old, playing with an older age classification, made several fine plays.

MIDGET recers Butch Henke, 9, Daly City, Sandy McQuire, 11, San Francisco, and Gene Spinelli, 8, South San Francisco, warm up for their appearance at the forthcoming San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta. Coast's Midget Racers To Roll At County Fair

The Coastside quarter-midgets are scheduled to race at the San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta, Monday, August 5 and Wednesday, August 7, from 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

The youngsters range in age from 5 to 11 and are classed as A and B drivers. Their cars have a 2 H.P. motor and attain a speed of 25 miles per hour. The children have been racing for 1½ years without any mishaps.

Lt. Peter Bollage, juvenile inspector of the San Mateo County Sheriff's office says; "The quarter-midget racing is a very good program for children as its foremost principle is teaching safety, sportsmanship, and courtesy of the road to children at an early age. It is the same thing as teaching good manners to the very young, it becomes automatic. When these children are old enough to get a drivers license they will have all the fundementals and knowledge of what makes a good driver.

Another excellent thing is that as the parent's interest grows in the quarter-midget racing it becomes a whole family project and keeps the family together.

A track is being prepared on the drill area at the Fairgrounds for the Quarter Midget races. It will incorporate all the features of a large race track, and the races will be held in accordance with the strict rules and regulations laid down by the Quarter-Midget Association.

W'LAKE YOUTH WOUNDED BY 'PLAYFUL' PAL

A 15-year-old Westlake youth underwent surgery at St. Luke's after he was accidentally shot Saturday afternoon by a companion following a hunting trip to the hog ranch area behind new Westmoor high school.

Bone in the arm of Ron Vanderbick, 844 Southgate, was shattered by a .22 caliber bullet fired by George Homer, 734 Southgate.

Three other teen-agers in the expedition verified that Homer jokingly pointed his rifle at Vanderbick, thinking the weapon unloaded. The victim was hurried to Junipero Serra hospital and police were notified.

Homer, in trouble with juvenile authorites before, was charged with illegal use of firearms under city ordinance. He was taken to Hillcrest for further questioning, then released after authorities ruled the shooting accidental.

New State Law Firms 'Non-Fix' Traffic Tickets

Governor Goodwin J. Knight signed into law today a bill by Assemblyman Louis Francis providing for a "non-fixable traffic violation ticket."

It requires that tickets for traffic violations shall be made in triplicate by the arresting officer. The original is given to the traffic violator, one copy is sent to the judge or magistrate, and the other is sent to the chief of police, sheriff or commissioner.

Francis, who authored this legislation, said, "This bill's main objectives are to destroy completely in California the institution popularly known as 'ticket fixing' and to increase respect for our courts and the law. Even a person who successfully fixes a ticket lacks respect for our courts and brags about his accomplishment."

"With this new law, a person will have to 'fix his ticket' with the judge and the chief of police. It would not be worthwhile, especially since his attempt could result in a conviction of contempt of court," Francis added.

County Watershed Quite A Spot For Real Crazy Capers

The variety of requests for entrance to the San Francisco Water Department's watershed area in San Mato County would require a small book just to list them.

James H. Turner, department manager, asked his assistants to compile some of the more unusual requests. Here are just a few from that list:

To gather teasles (thistle heads), photograph nude models, hunt mountain lions, train dogs, gather rat nests (pack rats accumulate piles of excrement usable for fertilizing orchids), gather edible prickly pears, hold motorboat races on Crystal Springs Lake, hold drag-strip races, shoot firecrackers, breed Arabian horses, test radio reception, band birds, collect rocks, conduct police "stakeout," pick mushrooms, hold Easter sunrise services and to raise bees.

Also, the lengthy list included requests from explosive researchers, archery groups, minnow trappers, rattlesnake gatherers, flea investigators (inspecting squirrels for Tuleremia research), tule collectors, topsoil gathers and coon hunters.

4 Local Drivers 'Demoted' By California DMV

Four local drivers were set down by recent action of the California Department of Motor Vehicles.

Revocation of license was ordered for Lowell L. Milliman, 250 Kings road, Brisbane.

License suspensions hit Anthony Delfino, 166 Winchester street, Daly City, and Victor E. Kincade, 352 Nelson avenue, Sharp Park.

Wayne G. Dillaboy, 138 West Market street, was placed on probation.

The state recommended no suspension of license for three drivers convicted of drunk driving. Involved were Leroy Collier, 239 Crocker avenue; Clifford J. O'Brien, 715 Alta Vista drive, Pedro Valley, and Lloyd H. Wood, 60 Lynnewood drive.

Joseph J. Ostergren, 1643 Linda Mar boulevard, Pedro Valley, was reinstated.

Actions were terminated against Melvin W. Flower, 1282 South Mayfair; Jacob Pelsinger, 149 Belmar avenue, and Christopher A. Prasinos, 155 East Vista avenue.

HEADLIGHT BLINDNESS ....

It's a law in California that you must dim your headlights when you come within 500 feet of an oncoming vehicle. It's a good law, says the California State Automobile Association, because glaring headlights can cause temporary blindness for as much as three seconds. Give the other motorist a break by dimming your headlinghts in time.

County 'Deal' Prospects Good For Mountain Camp In Sierras

Congressman J. Arthur Younger today announced that his plan for securing acreage in the Sierras for a mountain camping ground for San Mateo County residents was nearing reality.

From Ralph Shaw, San Mateo County recreation director come word that Earl Bachman of the recreation and land section of the United States Forest Service has notified him that the chief, forester will meet with them the week of July 21 to select the site.

Recommended by Bachman, who is a resident of San Mateo, is available national park land near Huntington Lake in Fresno County. The lake is five miles long and nearly a mile wide. The property is within walking distance of the lake at an elevation of 7200 feet and is easily available the year round.

There is water on the property and the area is noted for its fine fishing facilities.

Congressman Younger last year placed the matter before the county recreation department and Shaw who has worked diligently towards the acquisition, which is on a virtually free basis, with only a small land rental charge to the county.

Shaw said he would ask county supervisiors for authority to work out details if the U. S. Forest Service is ready to act.

He said that it would only be necessary to provide camp stoves, running water and toilet facilities and put a county employed park attendant in charge during the summer months.

Younger said that usually a small charge of about 50 cents per day per car is made for campers which more than offsets the cost of operation.

The camping area would be for exclusive use of San Mateo county residents and would be so designated, Younger declared, adding that he hoped the transaction could be made in time for earliest possible use by local families.

"This will give San Mateo residents a wonderful place to camp in our beautiful national forests with one of California's finest mountain lakes nearby for real outdoor recreation," Younger said from his desk in Washington, D. C.

Shaw hailed the move as a tremendous aid to the county's recreation program and declared that he was enthusiastic about the prospects of it for year round use. He said the number of acres to be acquired would depend on the terrain and the availability of the land.

County Planning Director Frank Skillman will accompany Shaw to the area to meet the Chief Forest Ranger to work out details.

Several California communities already have such camp grounds, but Younger's proposal is the first ever made for San Mateo county. Shaw said, each city in the county could be assigned areas or dates to utilize the facilities if necessary and he would work with city recreation departments towards this end.

Gasoline Midgets Drop Debut, 10-0

Westlake Flying A succumbed to South Sunset, 10-0, Sunday as Midget League action opened at Westlake park.

In the second tilt, Daly City Reds clipped San Pedro Lunch, 11-4. Taylor fanned 11 of Gus Sebastiani's crew while scattering eight hits.

San Pedro's Byron struck out 10 Reds but was rapped for 14 hits.

This Sunday the Reds meet BYA at 10, and the Lunchmen face Flying A at 1, both tilts at Westlake park diamond.

'BOP' DANCING GOES OVER BIG AT B-FRANKLIN

Social dancing or "bop" is the newest activity at the Benjamin Franklin school for boys and girls 12 and over. Attendance is increasing at the dances, which are held every Friday at 2 p.m. "If you have a favorite record, bring it and come on over," encourages Marcia Shuken, activity instructor. She also will conduct a nature study trip this week to collect twigs for name pins and leaves for scatter prints. Many new games have been added to the game room, with paddle pool being the favorite.

Sid Phelan, softball coach for Benjamin Franklin, reports that he had two winning teams last week. The junior varsity team, composed of boys 11 and under, beat Garden Village, 16-15, in an exciting game Tuesday. His team of boys 12 and over won their practice softball game with Colma, 5-0, on Wednesday.

Great progress has been made in the boxing and tumbling lessons. Since the tumbling mat is still down, lots of practicing has been done this week. A large group of boys turned out for instruction in archery Friday at Garden Village playground.

GARDEN VILLAGE SOFTBALL KIDS PLAYDAY CHAMPS

The Garden Village boys' team is beaming over their new title, "All-City Sportsday Softball Champions," awarded them on July 10, at the Westlake school recreation area.

Over 300 children from Olympia, Benjamin Franklin, Garden Village and Westlake schools and the Westlake park recreation group participated in the many activities of the sportsday and trudged home weary, but happy over the day of competitive fun.

Fish stories have been filling the air this week, with the Daly City-Colma Lions club sponsoring their annual fishing trip for the boys on Wednesday, July 17, at Lake Merced. ALTHO some went home with empty fishing baskets, they all left with their stomachs filled with sandwiches, milk, ice cream and cookies supplied by the club.

War Memorial 5, Paced By Garcia, Bags Cage Title

The "Fearless Five" from War Memorial, paced by Jeff's Pete Garcia, took basketball honors Thursday in "Sports Playday" competition at Colma school.

With Garcia's 18 points setting the pace, the Community Center quint swamped Marchbanks park, 49-19. George Ojakian bagged 16 point for the winnners.

Top defensive job was turned in by Mike Brush. Guarding high-scoring Sonny Stroller, Mike held the park ace to seven points, Sonny's lowest output in a long time.

Brush netted six points, Mike Nolan, six, and Roy Zattiero, three.

Jerry Wills led Marchbanks with eight points.

Belmont Schedules 200-Lap Late Model Stock Car Classic

A 200 lap late model stock car race, sanctioned by NASCAR, will be staged Saturday night, July 27, at Belmont Speedway.

Guaranteed purse of $3,200 will be at stake.

The race was originally scheduled May 11, but twice was rained out. NASCAR agreed on the July 27 date for Belmont, despite a heavy summer schedule nationally, in order to offer its stars in competition in the longest race of the season on the peninsula.

New 1957 models will be in action.

From 24 to 26 cars—an unusually large field on the quarter mile dirt speedway—are expected to qualify for the 200 lap championship. There will be two 10 lap sprints, Smyth said.

UNDERCOATING

Even though it doesn't show, the underside of your car needs attention, too. To prevent corrosion of the metal underneath the car, an approved undercoating should be applied when the car is new, suggests the California State Automobile Association. Undercoating prevents rust and also tends to deaden road noises which originate underneath the car.

Lions Will Put Weight Behind Cubs Paper Drive

Daly City-Colma Lions club members will literally get their weight behind Cub Pack 244's paper drive, which will be kicked off July 31 at the Lions club luncheon.

Lions will form teams and help push the paper drive. At the July 31 session each Lion will be asked to turn over his own weight in paper. And each club member's contribution will be checked with a home-made scale.

From August 3 to August 17 the Cubs will canvass the lower Mission street area between Hillside boulevard and Junipero Serra. The Cubs will also accept donations of paper at Ben Franklin, Westlake, Crocker, Colma and Woodrow Wilson schools, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on August 3. Lion teams will aid in tying the bundles and bring them to a central collection point.

The Lions, sponsors of Pack 244, have already contributed $75 to the unit to pay for flags and other equipment.

Co-chairmen for the Lions are Dan Andersen and Ray Charette.

PEDRO MIDGETS SLAM SF CLUB AT JEFF, 9-5

San Pedro Lunch broke up a pitchers' duel in the fifth inning Tuesday afternoon to roll to a 9-5 win over the San Francisco Whites in midget loop practice play at Jefferson High.

Richard Holmberg went the route for Gus Sebastiani's club, allowing four hits and striking out a pair. Opposing hurler, Mike Rennie, had a no-hitter going into the fifth. He scattered six hits and fanned seven.

Jim Orlich, son of the Jeff P. E. director, started the Pedro rally in the fifth. He unloaded a single with the bags packed, driving in the first run of the splurge.

Joining young Orlich in the hit column were Jimmy Fife, Steve Milan, Floyd Bryum, Bolleto and Chavez.

V-8 ENGINES

During 1956, eighty per cent of U. S. automobiles produced were equipped with V-8 engines, reports the California State Automobile Association.

Westlake Rockets Win Opener, 3-0

Westlake's Rockets blanked the Millbrae Lions, 3-0, Saturday here in the Peninsula League opener for both clubs.

Mound hero was Richard Mortola, checking the invaders on four hits.

A two-run double by Lou Bevilacqua, scoring Bill Fosbery and J. B. Berry, was Westlake's big blow, coming in the second frame.

Mortola's double in the sixth pushed across Fosbery with the final tally.

Millbrae threatened but once — in the second — by getting men on second and third with one out. Mortola got out of trouble by snaring an attempted bunt for the second out, then firing to double off the runner at third.

Ace Ed Leveroni Hurls These Days For Burlingame 9

Ed Leveroni, the lad who pitched Jefferson High to the North PAL baseball crown this spring, is keeping busy on the diamond this summer.

The College of San Mateo-bound righthander performs on weekends for the Burlingame Merchants in the El Camino League. His teammates include several North PAL regulars.

Ed led the North PAL in strikeouts, hurled 10 complete games, and batted in a yeoman share of runs for the championship Indians.

BRAKE FLUID

Automobile manufacturers recommend the use of motor oil of a specific weight and grade in their cars. The same is true for brake fluids, says the California State Automobile Association. Be sure you use the right type of brake fluid in your car. Use of the incorrect type of fluid may damage the braking system.

Mission Rock Terminal at San Francisco can berth eight ships simultaneously.

Gal Scribe Blasts 'Majors Dream,' Supports PCL

(Editor's Note: Tumult and shouting over wooing the majors to this neck of the woods so far has been hogged by male moguls. To give the gentler sex an opportunity to be heard, we offer this piece of feminine philosophy. Correspondent is a San Jose State senior, well versed in the national pastime and a personal friend of Ted Williams, a player of sorts. She's working for Marchbanks Publications this summer as part of her training for a career in advertising.)

By Dawn Tognoli

The question before the "greatest" minds in baseball today is: "Shall we go West... shall we invade casual, carefree California?"

I've heard the story before. Every team that packed it's bag for greener pastures has eyed the fertile valleys of the Pacific Coast. But none have ever made it across the Rockies. And what's more, they never will!

Why? The reasons are all too obvious . . . and Mr. O'Malley, Mr. Stoneham, Mr. Christopher, and the Los Angeles Daily News know them better than I. For one thing, the jump from St. Louis to San Francisco is much too big. The time consumed in traveling would be tiring and tedious to the muscle men of the majors.

Bums Stay Put

Second reason is the biggest. In my humble opinion, I believe Brooklyn has no intention of moving out of the city that has made them so famous. The Bums could not be De Bums anywhere else. What the Dodgers do want, and what they will most likely get in time, is a new ball park. The one they play in is a disgrace and should hardly belong to a club that wins pennants and championships and stuff. Mr. Alston's crew "draw" at home (and anywhere they go). There is no reason to believe they could not draw more if they had the park to hold the people. All Brooklyn wants is a new and bigger home.

Then we come to the Giants. This club packs 'em in when they win. — They are NOT winning. The thing to do in this day and age when one is in trouble is to scream "so long, I'm leaving, good-bye." If Horace thinks this will be of any help to his aging batsmen, he has another think coming.

How About PCL?

All this crazy talk has done nothing but hurt a very underrated league—your own Coast League. It has dangled before fans the shiny brass ring of big league ball . . . has made them run around in circles, like the ever popular merry-go-round, chasing what most consider to be the utopia of baseball. Brass rings tarnish quickly; they do not become beautiful merely because they are possessed. Nothing in this world will bring back the shine to the Athletics, Orioles, Pirates, Cubs, and even the Giants — except talent. Yes, dear readers, TALENT. Talent that is being ruined by bonuses and big business—but that is another story. No city in the world could make these teams winners. The Braves? Yes, I've heard of them. They were the team that always played second fiddle to the Red Sox, Boston's favorite team. But they were one step ahead of the rest. They built their club on solid ground and good balance. They needed only love. Milwaukee supplied them with that. The rest of these teams need more than love, life, or laxatives—they need talent. Talent that will not suddenly appear simply by changing scenery.

Murderous Intent

I am surprised that our cosmopolitan city could be taken in by these pieces of brass. I'm sure the "great" minds of baseball did not intend to kill the Coast League. But they are. Our fans no longer are content to ride relaxed, when they see that ring ever before their eyes. We have some pretty fine ballplayers out here. I think th first five clubs in our league are finer than the last four or five clubs in the big show. Just look at the percentages if you don't believe me. The East has but one advantage—the name big league.

How sad it is to see fine baseball fans sit back and wait for the majors while the team that plays hit-run-throw at 16th and Bryant is pretty darn good. Have you seen the Seals this year? Sure they make mistakes. So do St. Louis, Cincinnati, the White Sox and even the Yankees — occasionally. The best of 'em look bad sometimes. The Seals, like the above named teams, look good.

Expand Majors

What's the solution to all this. In my opinion, it would be creating—now hang on to your hat—two NEW teams in BOTH leagues. Put one in Denver and another in Salt Lake, and the other two on the COAST. Make both leagues 10 team circuits. This would make one extra "stop," before flying all the way to the Pacific shore.

Yes, I realize the problems involved. The same old problem —where will the players come from? Certainly the Coast League—combined—could field two very good teams. If California could keep all her ballplayers out here, we could have two winning teams in no time. After all, why should the East get fat on OUR flesh forever. Surely, there must be 18 men somewhere who could play the same caliber ball as the lower National and American League clubs.

Beloved Seals

Well, there it is, folks. You may think I'm crazy or colossal. That's unimportant. Do yourself a favor and take a peak at the home town 9 when they return on the 27th of this month. You may be surprised. We are leading the league, you know.

San Francisco will never support a loser in anything, no matter what league it plays in. A rose by any other name, et cetera, et cetera.

We have a winner out here now. Let's stay behind them and see a pennant flying in Seals Stadium in 1958 when the Coast League opens anew.

Ryan Guns Jeff Past Riordan 5

Jefferson's varsity cagers kept their unbeaten string intact last week, dumping Riordan, 40-33, in the third round of North County Summer League play.

Brisbane's Gary Ryan, all-round Indian athlete, led the way by pumping in 24 points. It was his best performance.

Westmoor's varsity cagers entered the victory column by routing South City, 40-14. The Warriors have no lightweights.

Jeff's varsity heads the league with a 3-0 record. The Indian 30's are 2-1.

Jeff's teams host Capuchino this week. Next Wednesday evening, July 24, the Indians and Westmoor tangle at War Memorial building. Starting time is 7:15 p.m. for the lightweight clash.

HIX FASHIONS NO-HIT 7-0 WIN FOR B.Y.A.

Bruce Hix hurled a 7-0 no-hitter Saturday over the Portola Giants to keep the Broadmoor Youth Association Midgets unbeaten in the Junior Managers League.

Not one Giant reached second as Hix fanned 14 batters. He walked but four. Buddy Fitting, the loser, was rattled for 12 hits, whiffed six and walked four.

Big stickers for BYA were Jerry Ward and Barney Colangelo, with three blows apiece. Also rapping the horsehide were John Vocke, Alan Stoller, Fred Del Sarto, John Bennett and Hix himself.

A battle of mound mainstays faces the BYAers this weekend. Their foe, Portola Yanks, also have a pitcher with a no-hitter to his credit.

The BYA club drew a bye in the DC Recreation League last week. First foe will be the Daly City Reds this Saturday at Westlake park. Things begin at 10 o'clock.

200 Kids At Lions' Fish Day

Burt Treanor, 689 Orange street, won top honors—a cash award—for the biggest trout. His catch was an eight-incher.

Prizes for smallest fish went to Diane Massei, 318 Irvington street.

Transportation was supplied by Northgate Transit and individual Lions members.

Elman Rose coordinated the event for the city recreation department. Ray Lagomarsino was the Lion in charge.

DC Cops, Firemen Slate Diamond Clash This Fall

Stage is being set today for the first annual baseball clash between Daly City's police and firemen—probably sometime in September at Marchbanks diamond.

The gendarmes have issued the challenge, believing they have more on the ball than the hose haulers.

Chief Roland Petrocchi, whose fast ball blazed on local sandlots not too many years ago, undoubtedly will hurl for the badgemen.

Big sticks for the cops should be those of Jim Welch and Larruping Lester Bastedo, two heavyweights with suprising speed.

Elmer "Smoky" Kennedy's fire house five plus four includes a number of younger lads who play regularly on weekends. The guys with the red suspenders aren't revealing an lineup projections, however.

Members of the city council and manager Howard Stites will be asked to officiate and make sure order is maintained. The going is expected to be hot and furious.

Proceeds will go to provide more sports activities for Daly City youngsters—via the newly formed, community-wide Police Athletic League.

COMMUNITY CENTER'S nine won softball honors Thursday in "Sports Playday" at Colma school's spacious Trojan Field. The War Memorial huskies walloped Colma, 14-3, in the playoff. Colma got to the finals by blasting Little Jeff, 11-0, and Crocker, 16-1. Community Center spanked Little Jeff, 16-1, in opening action. All events at Trojan Field were well attended.

Giusti In Links Win Back East

Wayne Giusti of Daly City and two other Northern California mainstays blazed to first-round victories Wednesday in the U. S. Golf Association's junior championships at Washington, D.C.

The Jeff High ace moved towards Saturday's finals by downing Robert Smith, Bismark, North Dakota, 5-4. Darkhorse Keith Mattos, Hillsdale High sensation, blasted John Doser, Rockville, Maryland, 1-up.

Richard Shermano, Sharp Park, also advanced, defeating William Barnett, West Frankfort, Illinois, 2-1.

Approximately 128 of the nation's best young golfers are entered.

SUMMER SWIM SLATE AT JEFF BREAKS RECORD

Second round of classes found some 403 males and females participating—all-time high for that period here. First classes were attended by 379 persons.

Orlich said that average attendance for the afternoon sessions is about 200, with approximately 100 folks enjoying the pool during the evenings.

More than 2200 individuals will have participated by the time the summer program ends, Orlich predicted.

State Stocks Streams With Catchable Trout

This week the following nearby lakes and streams are scheduled to be restocked with catchable-sized rainbow trout by the California Department of Fish and Game.

Adverse conditions may prevent stocking some of the waters listed, the department warned.

Monterey County, Carmel, Big Sur rivers; San Luis Obispo County, Lopez Creek; San Mateo County, Gazos, Pescadero creeks, and Upper Bean Hollow Lake; Santa Cruz County, Fall, Newell, San Vicente, Soquel, Zayante creeks and San Lorenzo river.

DC LAD MAKES STRONG BID IN SOAPBOX DERBY

Richard Beutler, Daly City's lone entry in San Francisco's "Soapbox Derby," was eliminated Saturday in the Sunset district spectacle after winning his first two heats.

Sponsored by Joe Lewkowitz, proprietor of Daly City Super Service, it was the second try for the Colma school graduate. He lives at 238 Alexander avenue.

Winner of Saturday's exciting affair will represent Northern California in the National finals at Akron, Ohio.

'Junior Olympics' Set July 25 On Jeff Track

The annual Daly City Department of Parks and Recreation "Junior Olympics" will be held next week on Thursday, at 4 p.m., on the Jefferson High track.

There will be competition for both boys and girls. Participants will be divided into five age groups.

Track events include races of 40 to 100 yards, and relays. Field events for boys include: broadjump, high jump, football for throw, softball throw for accuracy, and triple standing broad jump.

Each contestant may enter two track and one field event or two field and one track event plus the relay.

The playground getting the highest number of points, based on all classifications, will be the winner. First place will score 5 points, second 3, third 2, and fourth 1.

Certificates will be awarded for first, second, and third place in each event.

This week there are two special events—today, July 17, fishing at Lake Merced, sponsored by the Daly City-Colma Lion's Club, and on Thursday, Carnival Day at Marchbanks park.

Golf Pro Succumbs From Auto Accident

William McArthur, former manager of the Treasure Island driving range south of Colma, died Sunday as a result of automobile accident injuries he suffered Saturday when his car struck a tree in Redwood City.

McArthur, 34, a resident of Redwood City, had been working as assistant pro at the Palo Alto golf course.

DC Drug Juniors Rock Reds, 19-5

Daly City Drugs popped the Junior Baseball League cork Sunday with a resounding 19-5 win over the Daly City Reds.

In the second tilt, Milano Inn nipped the Coastside Lions, 6-4.

Colman Gets Ace

Nilo Simonini of Colma posted a hole-in-one last weekend on the 170-yard 14th at San Mateo Municipal golf course.

Simonini used a three iron for the ace. Witnesses were Tony Valerio, Wally Volz and Al Nieri.

Drug 9 Cools Portola, 2-1, For Title Cinch

Getting the most of five hits and tops defensively, the Daly City Drug baseball kids tripped the tough Portola Braves, 2-1, Saturday at Balboa park.

Victory over ace right-hander Johnny Rapp wrapped up the first half pennant for Tom Bournellis' nine in the Class D League. The Drug squad will meet the second round winner in the playoffs late in August.

Terry Christman, Drug hurler, had only one bad inning—the second. Monte Bussanick, Portola catcher, led off with a single. Terry then jammed the sacks with two straight walks. Second baseman Frank Blum singled into left, scoring Bussanick. But on the next play the runner was forced out at the plate on a double play from Mike O'Leary to Bob McNeilly to Barry Krohn at first. Shortstop Billy Hix accounted for the third out by firing Rapp's roller to Krohn.

Hix' defensive genius saved Christman again in the sixth, with the tying runs aboard. With runners on second and third, Billy leaped high to snare Blum's liner, then raced to second to double off Danny Escobar.

Rapp was sharp (striking out eight), but he had trouble in the fourth. Christman started it off by getting a free pass. Bill Hynes moved him along with a single, then Rapp hit Hix with an inside fast ball to load the bases. Mike Rovai, o a squeeze manuever, laid down a perfect bunt, beating the throw and chalking up an rbi.

Billy Ludwigsen slapped one of the five blows off Rapp. Danny Luciano moved the crowd with a fine catch of Morey's long drive in centerfield.
